NV5 provides engineering and consulting services to public and private sectors, delivering solutions that help our clients plan, design, build, test, certify, and operate projects that improve the communities where we live and work.

Our historians meet and exceed the Secretary of the Interior’s Professional Qualifications Standards for History and Architectural History, the benchmark for qualification in the historic preservation field. More than simply qualified, our personnel have worked nationwide for a variety of federal, state, municipal, institutional, and private clients, and are recognized as published leaders in their field.

NV5 offers a wide range of cultural resources services. As project and program advocates, we comprehend the multitude of cultural resources laws, policies, and procedures that must be navigated. We have guided scores of clients through them on highway, transit, rehabilitation, telecommunications, and civil engineering projects. We have produced historic context documents for statewide rail systems and mid-twentieth-century highway bridges, and have contributed to contexts for federal customs houses. We also provide condition assessments for historic buildings and guidance for historic rehabilitation.

We approach all projects with an open mind and innovative attitude, searching for the better and more efficient way, keeping abreast of changing technologies that can improve productivity. Sensitive to local concerns, we do our background research and can easily adapt to any locale and situation, customizing initiatives and work flows so that our project management reflects the values and goals of the communities where we work.

A HISTORY AS CALYX, A NEW OPPORTUNITY AS NV5

For 26 years as CALYX Engineers and Consultants, we developed a reputation for providing quality services throughout the Southeast. Our ownership has changed, but our people have not. As NV5, we have the opportunity to build upon our service offerings, project opportunities, technology, and talent to best serve our clients. We remain ready to assist you with your most ambitious plans.

Same outstanding talent. More resources.
